Permanent Link to Harman to demonstrate Autotalks' C-V2X capabilities at CES 2019
2021/06/06

Hagai Zyss, CEO of Autotalks. (Photo: Daniel Danilov) Autotalks' second-generation chipsets have been selected by Harman International to provide the vehicle-to-everything (V2X) chipset for the Harman telematics platform. The platform will be showcased at the Consumer Electronics Show, taking place Jan. 8-11 in Las Vegas. With V2X, all vehicles share location, speed and trajectory, giving drivers warnings of on-road dangers. Autotalks' second-generation chipsets are mass-market ready and support both DSRC and C-V2X direct communications (PC5 protocol). Harman is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Samsung Electronics Co. Ltd., focused on connected technologies for automotive, consumer and enterprise markets. Harman will showcase a connectivity display of its telematics platform with C-V2X capabilities. The live demonstration will show a vehicle communicating with a motorcycle using C-V2X direct communications (the Autotalks chipset is used in both). Harman's solution consists of a modular telematics control unit (TEC) accommodating a cellular network access device (NAD) beside Autotalks' second-generation chipset providing C-V2X capabilities. Autotalks C-V2X capabilities consist of a 3GPP compliant PC5 modem, with dual antenna and diversity for both transmission and reception, as well as an optimized closed-loop remote antenna solution for the highest radio performance. "Autotalks is proud to work with Harman on their TCU with our secure and deployment-ready C-V2X solution," said Hagai Zyss, CEO of Autotalks. "We are excited to have our chipset inside Harman's telematics platform and to demonstrate the flexibility and maturity of our global V2X solution which has been chosen for series production by leading automakers." "Together with Harman, we will achieve deployment readiness before the mass-commercialization of C-V2X in China and elsewhere," Zyss said. "We are pleased to showcase Autotalks' C-V2X capabilities in our Telematics platform at CES 2019," said Mike Peters, president, Connected Car Division at Harman. "The Autotalks chipset provides us with the flexibility, security and performance needed in today's worldwide market for telematics and V2X." Autotalks' V2X chipset is now available for customer and partner demonstrations.
