Permanent Link to KVH showcases IMUs at Ocean Business 2019
2021/06/20

The GEO-FOG 3D Dual inertial navigation system (INS) is designed for applications that require heading at system startup or in low dynamic conditions. (Image: KVH) KVH Industries will showcase its inertial products at Ocean Business 2019, taking place in Southampton, U.K., April 9-11. When GNSS is not an option, KVH's Fiber Optic Gyro (FOG)-based IMUs and inertial navigation systems — the GEO-FOG 3D and 3D Dual — provide accurate and reliable navigation for manned and unmanned maritime and underwater systems, the company said. "When we compare the data and performance of the KVH 1750 IMU to comparable SWAPC components, we find a tremendous disparity in performance," said Ben Kinnaman, CEO of Greensea Systems Inc. "The KVH 1750 IMU outperforms similar components and sensors in that category by orders of magnitude." Visit KVH at Stand J8 and learn more about KVH's FOG-based 1750 IMU, which is available with 2g accelerometers and designed specifically for subsea vehicle navigation and positioning.
